

Unloading in Causeni district

On October 8, 2025, the rescuers from the Causeni district intervened to carry out unloading works following a road accident produced in the village of Hagimus, Causeni district.

The 112 Service was alerted at 3:34 pm about the accident.

According to the information recorded, the Honda CR-V model car skidded on the road due to excessive speed and has been tamping in a tree.

following the impact, two people were stuck in the damaged car.

in a short time, a team of rescuers from the unit of rescuers and firefighters intervened on the spot.

IGSU employees have urgently carried out the discharge works of two people blocked between the beasts of the vehicle: the car, a 32 -year -old man, in an unconscious state, and the passenger - another 37 -year -old man, in semi -conscious state, with closed fractures.

The victims were taken over by the crew of the Causeni Emergency Medical Assistance Service and transported to the Causeni District Hospital for medical care.

All the circumstances of the accident occurring will be established by the law enforcement bodies.

in this context, IGSU warns the drivers about the need to respect the road safety rules under unfavorable weather conditions, especially during long -lasting rain.

In order to avoid risk situations on the road, in rainy conditions, IGSU recommends:

- • adapting the speed to the road conditions and low visibility;
- • avoiding sudden brakes and dangerous maneuvers;
- • maintaining a safe distance from the front vehicle;
- • Starting the meeting headlights throughout the movement;
- • avoiding movement by water accumulation or in areas with slip risk;
- • Avoid using mobile phone while driving.

Respecting these simple rules can prevent tragedies and save lives.

